Your eyes help you see. The act of seeing is called sight. Sight is one of the five main senses.

Eyes help you see everything! They help you see colors. They help you see if something is big or small. They even help you see how far away something is.

Some people use glasses to see. An eye doctor tests your sight. They can help if you need glasses.

1. True or false: Eyes help people see if something is close or far away.
